

What do you see?

Location: Ethiopia

Brush check-dams are built in series to slow down runoff, to trap sediments and to let water infiltrate in the soil.

To be more effective these check-dams should be built with a double layer of branches and should be anchored strongly to the side-banks.

Photo: Lakew Desta

24 - Brush check-dams

DWA