

What do you see?

Location: Ethiopia

This stone lined pond stores rainwater and provides water to the local households

The pond can be lined with different materials. In this case mortar and locally available stones have been used.

The water is used for irrigation, household consumption and to water livestock

Photo: Lakew Desta

30 - Stone lined pond